INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENTS

Education Sector is an independent think tank that challenges conventional thinking in education policy. It plays a pivotal role in structuring the knowledge base of any economy and of every country. India is one of the largest education markets (in terms of the potential number of Students) in the world. The potential target education market of India comprised 464 million people (in the 5-24 age group) in 2006, approximately 42% of the total population, with an estimated 446 million people (equivalent to 32% of the total population) projected for the year 2026 as compared to potential target markets comprising 354 million people in China and over 90 million people in the U.S. in the year 2025. The Education market in India can be broadly categorized as Formal Education, (School, College, University and Technical/ Professional Education), parallel Education (informal- pre- school, private tuition/ Coaching, test/ examination preparation and job/ skill oriented vocational institute, corporate training and finishing schools) and Ancillary Education (Textbooks, Stationery, IT enabled teaching aids and management of student services).

The growth in the Indian Education Market has been lofty and the Country's large educated population base and its reservoir of well trained university graduates have enabled the country to progress ahead in the global economy. Recognizing the huge potential, there are significant planned outlays for this sector in India. Further, the ministry of Human Resource Development has made significant budgetary allocation and has been looking at further liberalization of policies to allow greater and more diverse investment in the education sector in India. The Indian Government also levies a 3% education cess on direct and indirect Central Government taxes, which provide specific equity funding to the Government's education spending plans. Thus the Indian Government is expected to continue to play a leading role in the expansion of the education market in India.

In addition, the education sector is delighted with the recent announcements in the union budget. An increase in allocation by 21.7 percent for the Right to Education, Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan, to Rs 25,555 crore, and by 29 percent for Rashtriya Madhyamik Shiksha Abhiyan to Rs 3,124 crore, reiterates the government's commitment to education. As proposed, 6,000 schools will be set up at the block level as model schools in the 12th Five Year Plan. The government has articulated several initiatives to give a boost to public-private partnerships (PPPs) in this sector.

PPP schemes for 2,500 schools and the credit guarantee fund for education loans to students is likely to pave the way for more private investment in higher education. In addition to all these, factors such as online learning, foreign collaboration, competition among institutes offering higher education and the efforts of vendors and partners have been driving force for attracting huge investments in this sector.
